

Please don't force my cherished personal time to be interrupted. I work too hard all week and really don't want the few free hours i have to relax to be packed full of junk calls. it's just short of harrasment. Since the bill was passed I've really come to enjoy the fact that when I get a phone call I know it will be from someone that I want to talk to.